August 19, 2023

Attention to the Board of Trustees,

This bill is for lawn care for city property for 9 years located next to the following address, 229 Donna St. Hermosa, SD 57744. For the past nine years, we have maintained this property once a week four times a month, totaling twenty times starting in May and ending in September.

We will be charging 30 dollars per mowing: $30 \times 20 = 600$ further including the 9 years it was maintained, it will be a grand total of $600 \times 9 = 5,400$ dollars.

Sincerely,

Bobbie Klaski

§ 91.02 PROHIBITED CONDITIONS.

(A) All weeds, tall grass in excess of eight inches in height, noxious matter, open wells and nuisances are declared a violation of this chapter and no owner of any lot, place or area within the town, or the agent of the owner or the occupant of the lot, place or area, shall permit on the lot, place or area, or upon any public way abutting the same, any weeds, tall grass, noxious matter or other nuisance to grow, lie, or be located thereon.

(B) Notwithstanding the prohibitions set forth in division (A), for parcels of three acres or more in undeveloped commercial and residential properties, grass growing in excess of eight inches shall be permitted for haying purposes so long as the owner, agent of the owner, or the occupant of the parcel of land of three acres or more maintains a 20-foot wide cut of the growing grass within the perimeter of the parcel of land of eight inches or less. The eight-inch or less cut shall not be necessary for that portion of the parcel that constitutes the boundary line of the town.

(Ord. 10.012, passed 4-3-2001; Ord. passed 5-7-2019) Penalty, see § 10.99

§ 91.03 ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY.

The Board of Trustees may appoint an authorized agent for the purpose of performing inspections, providing appropriate notifications of violations, conducting enforcement and abatement action as may be required to ascertain compliance with ordinances of the town, and obtaining legal counsel as required. Detailed reports of all action taken by the appointed enforcement authority will be provided at each regular meeting of the Board of Trustees.

(Ord. 10.012, passed 4-3-2001)

§ 91.04 NOTICE TO ABATE.

(A) The Board of Trustees or the duly authorized agent is authorized and empowered to notify, in writing, the owner of any lot, place or area within the town, or the agent of the owner, and the occupant of the premises, to cut, destroy or remove any weeds, tall grass, noxious matter or nuisance found growing, lying or located on the property or upon the public way abutting same.

(B) The notice shall notify the owner, agent and/or occupant to cut, destroy, remove or otherwise remedy any such weeds, tall grass, noxious matter or other nuisance within a prescribed amount of time and shall be delivered as set for below.

Morning Gail,

It will be about 1 more week to finish laboratory testing, and then a week to get the report together (permeability lab tests take quite a while). Thank you,

RE: Hermosa – Sewer Main Extension (22-048)

Dear Mr. Styles:

The Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources (DANR) received an electronic copy of the plans and specifications for the Sewer Main Extension project near Hermosa, South Dakota on August 28, 2023. Note that multiple versions of the plans and specifications have been submitted over the course of the approval process. The department has reviewed and hereby approves the plans and specifications with the following conditions:

1. This approval is only for the sewer main located along SD Highway 79. The water main was previously approved on September 9, 2022, contingent upon the approval of the wastewater collection system.
2. The crossing located at station 0+30 does not provide adequate separation between the Southern Black Hills Rural Water main and the sanitary sewer. The crossing must be modified to maintain at least 18 inches of separation between the pipes with a single section of pipe centered over the crossing to maximize the distance between the joints and the crossing. Alternatively, the sanitary sewer or water main may be cased for a minimum of ten feet on either side of the crossing. Please ensure the crossing requirements are met.

A previous version of the plans included concrete casing or a pipe casing at this crossing. As the facilities are already constructed, it is unclear if the minimum requirements have been met.

3. The manhole frame inserts shown on the plans will meet the DANR's minimum requirements for watertightness; however, the city must ensure the inserts are installed when servicing the sanitary sewer. To eliminate the possibility of the inserts being removed and not reinstalled, the department recommends removal of the manhole frames and covers and replacement with watertight frames and covers.
4. In accordance with the Administrative Rules of South Dakota (ARSD) § 74:53:04:08, DANR shall be notified when works or systems or both constructed in accordance with approved plans and specifications are placed in service.

This review is primarily to determine compliance with the minimum sanitary engineering requirements and does not cover items such as quality of material, structural soundness, or electrical and mechanical design features. Approval of the plans and specifications does not in any way release the applicant from the responsibility that the project will be an operable facility when construction is completed.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Hermosa – Sewer Main Extension (22-048)

Mr. Styles:

We are in receipt of the South Dakota Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources transmittal dated September 7, 2023 regarding the Hermosa – Sewer Main Extension (22-048).

Stipulation #2 of the aforementioned SD DANR approval letter notes that the crossing at Station 0+30 does not provide adequate separation between the Southern Black Hills Rural water main and the sanitary sewer. The sewer main has already been constructed, but it is not clear if casing was provided for a minimum of 10-feet on either side of the crossing of the Southern Black Hills Rural water main. The Southern Black Hills Water System requests that the sewer main be dug up and exposed for a distance of 10-feet either side of the crossing so that a representative of the Southern Black Hills Water System can document the condition of the crossing and compliance with the SD DARN approval. The Engineer of Record should be present as well, and this information should be placed on the “As-Built Drawings” for the sewer main. We request copy of the “As-Built Drawings” once complete. Note that the sewer main should not be placed into service until the encasement has been verified to meet the SD DANR Stipulations of Approval.

If you have any questions do not hesitate to contact me at (605) 745-4669.

Hi Jill,

Anything you wanted to do in the 260-270 range would work just fine.

For example:

009334 – 260 Whitney St
009335 – 270 Whitney St

This would be consistent with Manning street to the North.

Subject: City of Hermosa - Tank Floor Budget

Gail,

Please find the attached budget for the floor repair/reseal on the 31' diameter x 57' tall bolted steel tank.

We could scale back the scope to go after only the identified holes which would pull down the cost some. However, if you are going to go through the work of getting the tank empty/clean/dry, to me it makes the most sense to plan for the floor patching and resealing the floor seams.

Please call after you have had a chance to review.

Thank you,

Proposal: Bolted Tank Interior Floor Reseal
31'D x 57'H Steel Floor/Knuckle Roof
Hermosa, SD

Date: September 8, 2023

We are pleased to offer the following proposal:

Scope:

Reseal Tank Interior Seams

Interior Reseal –Floor ONLY:

1. Strip existing interior sheet edge sealant fillet.
2. Wire brush sheet edge and bolt line areas for clean, competent surface.
3. Place new sealer fillet at interface of floor and sidewall (to be covered with CIM; #4 below).
4. Place CIM industrial membrane over interior lap joints and bolt lines; extending 1" beyond sheet edge and bolt line. CIM 1061 and/or Trowel Grade (NSF 61 compliant) to be used; providing 1/8" build thickness over sheet edge for corrosion protection.
5. CIM to be used on all floor seams and extended 6" up starter ring seams.
6. Allows for (2) floor patches consisting up to 6"x6" plate, sealed to floor, covered with CIM.

Clarifications/Exclusions:

1. Tank expected to be out of service for 7 days for completion of work and curing.
2. Northern Steel Tanks may remove, at its discretion, one sidewall sheet to allow access for personnel, scaffolding, and materials to interior of tank.
3. Excludes special access requirements. Based upon performing work uninterrupted by other trades. Suitable site access for crew and delivery trucks to be provided and maintained by Customer.
4. Any electrical, controls, or sensors supply, install, disconnect or reconnect.
5. Excludes tank fill or bac T testing. Northern Steel Tanks will provide chlorine for disinfection.
6. Excludes overtime pay (schedule acceleration), prevailing wages, union labor, or other hiring preferences.
7. Any Owner or site specific safety requirements beyond OSHA standards or restrictive work rules are beyond the scope of this proposal.

Service Price Summary:

Interior Floor Reseal of 31' Dia. by 57' Tall Bolted Steel Tank w/ Knuckle Roof and Steel Floor $ 27,500.00

Interior Reseal: CIM over lap-joint and bolt lines; Priced upon both work items completed at same time

Terms and Conditions

Warranty: Northern Steel Tanks includes a 1-Year Materials and Workmanship Warranty on the work included herein.

Agreement: This proposal scope and pricing is subject to execution of a mutually acceptable form of agreement between Contractor and Customer.

Payment: 20% Due Upon Mobilization, 80% At Completion; Net 30 Days.

Schedule: Submittals to be provided four (4) weeks after receipt of order (if applicable). Based upon mutually agreed upon schedule for performance; time of performance subject to crew availability.

Validity: Price is Budgetary. Price is subject to change due to fluctuating material and labor costs. Any regulatory change impacting the cost of the work will result in a price adjustment.

Quality: Installation service offered in the Proposal will be performed by trained personnel regularly engaged in the installation of bolted storage tanks. All work will be performed in an excellent workmanship manner and in accordance with the tolerances and specifications called for by the manufacturer. In the absence of a technical specification, the manufacturer's specifications shall prevail.

Safety: Northern Steel Tanks has a comprehensive safety program that complies with OSHA standards and general industry safety requirements and is the standard for its employees and subcontractors.

Bonding: Bonds are not included.

Insurance: We will provide a certificate of insurance covering our portion of the work.

After you have had an opportunity to review the above proposal and should you have questions please contact Aaron Nelson at 218-779-2409.

Thank you for this opportunity.

Sincerely,

Aaron Nelson, PE (MN)

Subject: SDDOT - Required Certification due to Executive Order 2023-13

Good morning,

Governor Noem recently approved Executive Order 2023-13, see attached. We are required to have written documentation from Contractors (any natural person or entity that is a party to a contract with a state agency, authority, bureau, board, commission, department, or institution of the State of South Dakota that is controlled by the Governor) prior to initiating contracts. Counties and cities are considered "Contractors" according to this definition. We will have updated language in future contract documents to comply with the certification requirements. Until then, please look over the attached Executive Order, print, sign and return (via mail to address below) the attached Certification form.

If you have further questions please contact Noël Clocksin at 605.773.4256 or email her at noel.clocksinn@state.sd.us.

Thank you,

ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND CERTIFICATION REQUIRED BY EXECUTIVE ORDER 2023-13

Section 1 Definitions. The words used in this Certification shall mean:

1.1 “Contractor,” any natural person or entity that is a party to a contract with a state agency, authority, bureau, board, commission, department, or institution of the State of South Dakota that is controlled by the Governor.

1.2 “State,” any state agency, authority, bureau, board, commission, department or institution of the State of South Dakota that is controlled by the Governor.

1.3 “Contract,” any type of agreement with the State, regardless of what the agreement may be called.

Section 2. Acknowledgment and Certification. The Contractor acknowledges and certifies that the following information is correct:

2.1 The Contractor understands Article 3, Section 12 of the South Dakota Constitution, has had the opportunity to seek independent legal advice if desired, and no Contracts between the Contractor and the State are made in contravention of the prohibition set forth in Article 3, Section 12.

2.2 It is understood and agreed that, if this certification is false, such false certification will constitute grounds for the State to terminate the Contract.

2.3 The Contractor further agrees to provide immediate written notice to the State if during the term of the Contract the Contractor no longer complies with this certification. The Contractor also agrees such noncompliance may be grounds for termination of the Contract.

STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
EXECUTIVE ORDER 2023-13

Whereas, Whether a state legislator is entitled to appropriated funds through the state legislative process, having a significant impact on State government and public perceptions associated with the distribution of taxpayer money, has been a matter of public debate for over a century; and,

Whereas, Article 3, Section 12 of the South Dakota Constitution prohibits state legislators from being interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the State or any county during their terms in office and for one year thereafter; and,

Whereas, “The language of the constitution is plain. Its meaning cannot be mistaken. The purpose of the provision is apparent. It is intended to preclude the possibility of any member deriving, directly or indirectly, any pecuniary benefit from legislation enacted by the legislature of which he is a member. It is one of the most important of the many reforms attempted by the framers of our organic law. It is intended to remove any suspicion which might otherwise attach to the motives of members who advocate the creation of new offices or the expenditure of public funds.” Palmer v. State, 75 N.W. 818, 819 (S.D. 1898); affirmed by Pitts v. Larson, 2001 S.D. 151, ¶ 13, 638 N.W.2d 254, 257; reaffirmed again by In re Noem, 2020 S.D. 58, ¶ 12, 950 N.W.2d 678, 681; and,

Whereas, Responsible stewardship of taxpayer funds is crucial to operating an effective and trustworthy state and county government; and,

Whereas, As far back as 1913, the South Dakota Supreme Court has said, “A member of the state Legislature, by virtue of his office, stands in a fiduciary and trust relation towards the state; in other words, he is the confidential agent of the state for the purpose of appropriating the state’s money in payment of the lawful contractual obligations of the state, and it seems to be almost universally held that it is against sound public policy to permit such an agent, or any agent occupying a like position, to himself be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with the state or other municipality, during the period of time of the existence of such trust and confidential relationship. The private interest of such an agent should not become antagonistic to his public duty.” Norbeck & Nicholson Co. v. State, 142 N.W. 847, 849 (S.D. 1913); and,

Whereas, South Dakota’s Legislature is a citizen legislature, with its members honorably serving part-time, remaining engaged with their local communities and continuing their civilian professions until called upon to serve annually and in the interim, yet state Legislators may not have personal or professional interests in contracts with the State while in public service to the State; and,

Whereas, Each state Legislator took an oath to support the Constitution and has an affirmative obligation to avoid self-interested dealings and guard against conflicts of interest; and,

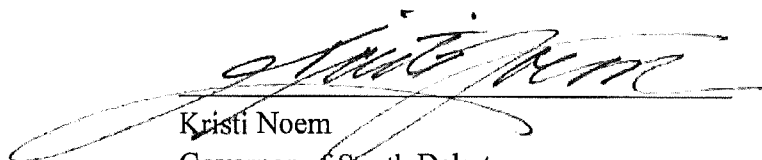

Whereas, All branches of state government and county government may also act to guard against such dealings:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Kristi Noem, Governor of the State of South Dakota, by the authority vested in me by the Constitution and Laws of the State, do hereby Order and Direct each state agency, authority, bureau, board, commission, department, or institution of the State of South Dakota that is controlled by the Governor to incorporate an acknowledgment and certification into any contract for the signor to acknowledge that it understands Article 3, Section 12, has had the opportunity to seek independent legal advice if desired, and certifies that such contract is not made in contravention of the prohibition set forth in Article 3, Section 12 of the South Dakota Constitution.

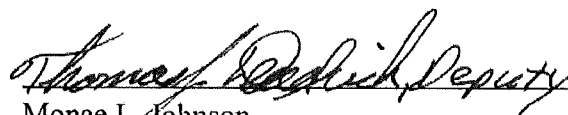

For those entities outside the jurisdiction of this Executive Order, including the judicial branch, the legislative branch, other constitutional offices, boards or authorities operating independent of executive oversight, and county governments, processes and procedures should be reviewed to ensure any contract is executed in accordance with Article 3, Section 12 of the South Dakota Constitution.

Proposed Contract for rent of 4'x5' office area in kitchen "break room".

Based on the lot rent of 2500 square foot area at $650 monthly rent per square foot equals $.26 for the Town Shop

Based on the lot rent of 2500 square foot area at $850 monthly rent per square foot equals $.34 for the Town Shop

So a 4x5' or 20 square feet at $.26 = $5.20 additionally a 4x5' or 20 square feet at $.34 = $6.80

I propose to pay $10⁰⁰ per month until January 1, 2021. I am willing to pay in full until January 1, 2021 by check. I will deliver the check tomorrow if accepted. Total Sept-Oct-Nov-Dec equals $40.

Please note the amount offered is $4.80 above actual amount required at $.26 per square foot or 92.31% above. at $.34 per square foot, is $3.20 over actual amount or 47.06% above

Your consideration would be appreciated.

Chris,
Good morning! I just checked the cameras this morning and we have 4 that are working and 3 that are not (message-No record). Would you recommend that we upgrade and replace all the cameras right now or do you think we can just replace the 3. I need to present something to the Board of Trustees and if you recommend replacing all of the camera with the latest.. greatest product I would rather do that than replace the rest one by one as they quit.

Thank you and have a great day!

FLOWING ACROSS THE DIVIDE

Decades in the making, North Dakota's efforts to tap Missouri River water are finally underway

By Ken Wysocky

A $1.1 billion, 125-mile-long pipeline project will eventually bring much-needed Missouri River water to communities in central and eastern North Dakota and help ensure the economic vitality of a region challenged for more than a century by limited water sources.

Construction of the Red River Valley Water Supply Project began in December 2020. When the buried pipeline is completed, it's projected to deliver 107 million gallons of water per day to more than 30 communities and rural water systems, says Duane DeKrey, general manager of the Garrison Diversion Conservancy District, which is supervising the project.

Formed in 1955, the 28-county conservancy district administers federal water programs and operates water-related facilities for the United State Bureau of Reclamation.

"This project will realize the long-standing dream of adequate water supply to central and eastern North Dakota," DeKrey says. "It's the largest water project in the history of North Dakota."

Many of the easternmost communities and rural water systems currently rely primarily on water from the Red River, which flows north into Canada. The water from the pipeline would essentially act as an insurance policy for municipalities in the event of a severe and prolonged drought. At the same time, it would provide the continuous supply of water necessary for growing industrial/commercial needs.

The North Dakota Natural Resources Trust, which is funded with revenue generated by a tax on oil-production revenue, is paying 75% of the project's cost.

"We literally are changing oil profits into water projects," DeKrey says.

The communities that sign up to receive water from the RRVWSP will pay the balance of the cost. They also will be responsible for building any local treatment plants required to make the water potable and any distribution infrastructure to get it where it needs to go.

It's estimated that the project will use only 0.7% of the Missouri River's available water supply and will supply water for approximately 50% of North Dakota's population, DeKrey notes.

"It's comparable to taking a thimble full of water from a 5-gallon bucket filled with water."

About 84% of the water will go to the eastern part of the state, which includes major North Dakota cities like Fargo and Grand Forks.

"We literally are changing oil profits into water projects."

Duane DeKrey

Water or bust

The project is necessary because surface water in central North Dakota and the Red River valley, which runs north and south through the eastern part of the state, is limited and at times unreliable. Furthermore, most of the available groundwater is fully appropriated.

As a result, demand for water from industries already exceeds available supplies.

In addition, a serious and prolonged drought — which climatologists predict will happen before 2050 — would cripple the eastern two-thirds of the state and deliver nearly a $33 billion economic blow in the event of a 10-year drought, according to Garrison Diversion estimates.

"We had five months of zero water flow in the Red River at Fargo (located on the state's eastern border) in 1934," DeKrey observes. "If we were short of water back in the 1930s, can you imagine

"It's the largest water project in the history of North Dakota."

“This project will create a huge economic boom of wet industries, such as dairy, hog and poultry operations as well as ethanol and meat-processing plants.”

how short of water we'd be now if a similar drought hit with the population so much bigger now.

“If North Dakota wants any kind of wet industries to exist in the future, we need to finish this project,” he adds. “As it is, we don't have enough water to process our own crops, most of which are shipped out of state for lack of water.

The spiral-welded steel, concrete-lined and epoxy-coated pipeline is 6 feet in diameter. It will roughly follow the path of State Highway 200 (on the southern side of the highway), which runs east and west in just about the middle of the state.

Building the pipeline will require the acquisition of about 280 parcels for right-of-way easements. So far, more than half of the parcels have been purchased, DeKrey says.

“We are right on schedule. We're in eminent domain proceedings on some parcels, but we still remain on schedule.”

The pipeline will carry water eastward at 165 cubic feet per second. The water will travel from an intake structure along a dormant waterway called the McClusky Canal, near the city of

The construction timeline is largely dependent on the pace of state funding. At the current rate of funding, it could take 25 years or more to complete the pipeline.

McClusky, all the way to a discharge structure along the Sheyenne River, south of the city of Cooperstown. The Sheyenne River then naturally flows into the Red River.

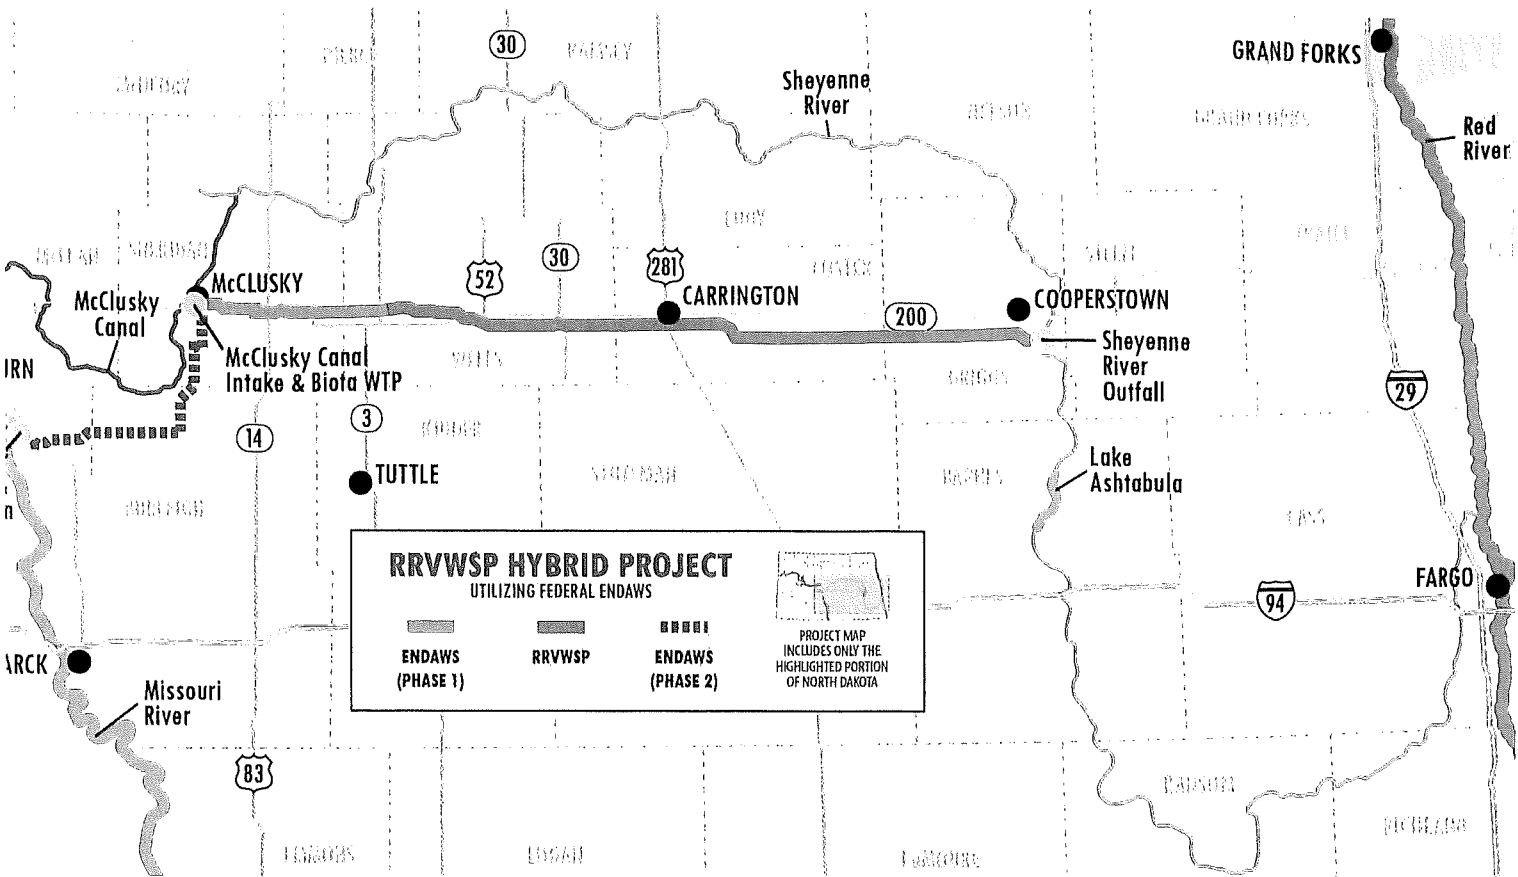

“The project is unique because it will take treated water across a continental divide,” DeKrey points out.

The project includes a break tank located just west of the divide, which separates the Missouri River and Hudson Bay watersheds. Water from the Missouri River is pumped to the divide, then flows the rest of the way by gravity. The break tank keeps the pipeline full of water in the event of a power outage, for example. That, in turn, keeps air out of the system, which helps prevent pipeline damage when water flow starts up again.

The project also will include a treatment plant near the intake structure that will treat the water, but not to drinking water standards.

“We don’t want to send potable water into the Sheyenne River, then treat it again at municipal plants,” DeKrey explains. “Also,

The project will roughly follow the path of State Highway 200, which runs east and west through the middle of North Dakota.

industries have boutique treatment needs they handle themselves, so it wouldn't make sense to treat the water to potable standards."

Angled history

The 74-mile-long McClusky Canal — originally part of a significantly larger and more ambitious plan to build canals, reservoirs and pipelines bringing Missouri Water to eastern and central North Dakota — symbolizes the futility of decades of plans aimed at slaking the state's thirst for water.

Completed in the mid-1970s, the canal is fed by water pumped from Lake Sakakawea, the largest man-made lake in North Dakota; the lake was created when the United States Army Corps of Engineers built the 2-mile-long Garrison Dam, completed in 1953.

The dam was one of five built under the so-called Pick-Sloan Missouri Basin Program, created by the U.S. Congress in 1944 to control flooding of the river and better manage its water resources. The program was named for the two men who developed the program: Lewis A. Pick, who was the director of the Missouri River office of the USACE, and William Glenn Sloan, who served as director of the Billings, Montana, office of the USBR.

The McClusky Canal originally was supposed to carry water to the headwaters of the Sheyenne River for irrigation and municipal use. But Canadian officials filed a lawsuit to stop that, alleging that ecological damage could ensue if water from the Missouri River crossed a continental divide and drained into the Hudson Bay watershed. (The Red River drains into Lake Winnipeg, which then drains into the Hudson Bay watershed.)

"That stopped this project cold for many, many years," DeKrey says.

As a result of a lawsuit settlement, the canal was plugged at mile marker 59, just short of the continental divide. Subsequently, the last 15 miles of the canal to the east of the divide is little more than a large, nicely built ditch, he notes.

Furthermore, the canal has carried only about 8,000 to 10,000 acre feet of water a year — a fraction of what was originally promised back in the 1960s — used only for irrigation in a limited area of central North Dakota.

Pipeline progressing

As a former state legislator for 20 years, a farmer and rancher for 30 years and a former deputy director of the state's Game and Fish Department, DeKrey is intimately familiar with the tortured history of efforts to bring Missouri River water eastward. Various plans and proposals have been beset by legal challenges, including some from environmental groups and the state of Missouri, which is concerned about any effort to take water from the Missouri River.

But DeKrey is heartened to finally see some progress. The intake and discharge structures are finished and about three miles of pipeline have been installed as of June, he says.

There's no official completion date for the project; the construction timeline is largely dependent on the pace of state funding. The state has approved $180 million in funding for the 2023 through 2025 biennial state budget, which would pay for about 43 miles of pipeline construction and additional pipeline design costs.

At the current rate of funding, DeKrey says it could take 25 years or more to complete the pipeline — and costs will keep rising the longer it takes. But no matter when the pipeline is completed, he thinks it will be well worth the wait.

"The state of North Dakota needs this water to thrive," he says. "The future of the state will be built on this water."

"We're finally starting to realize what was promised back in 1944 when the Pick-Sloan plan was approved. After this project is completed, North Dakota will finally receive the water supply it should have received decades ago." ♦
